Max Kade Center Summer Travel Grant

The German Program, with the support of the Max Kade Center for Modern German Thought, is pleased to announce 10 Travel Grants in the amount of $1,200 to support summer study abroad (German language courses, seminars in other disciplines, internships) in Germany.

Eligibility: Applicants must be full-time undergraduates at Johns Hopkins University. Prior knowledge of German is not required to apply for the grant and students from across the university are encouraged to apply. Preference is given to students who are German majors, German minors or students enrolled in courses in the German program.

Application Process: Applicants apply directly to Dr. Andrea Krauss, the Director of Undergraduate Studies in the German Program, akrauss@jhu.edu. Applications are due by March 1, 2014 and must include:

___ Application Form (See page 2)
___ Copy of Transcript
___ Name of Academic Advisor (as reference)
___ Statement of Purpose (reasons for studying German & studying in Berlin, ½ - 1 page)
___ Information about the program applicant has applied to / intends to apply to.

For more information, contact Dr. Krauss akrauss@jhu.edu or Deborah Mifflin mifflind@jhu.edu, the German Language Program Director.
The Max Kade Center Summer Travel Grant

March 1, 2014 Deadline

Application Form (Complete & submit along with transcript, Statement of Purpose, & Information on Program Applying to)

Full Name: ________________________________________________________________

Address: ______________________________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________________________

Email: ___________________________ Phone: ________________________________

Year of Study: _____ Freshman _____ Sophomore _____ Junior _____ Senior

Academic Major(s): _____________________________________________________________

Academic Minor(s): _____________________________________________________________

Academic Advisor: ______________________________________________________________

Previous Courses in German: _________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

Current Course(s) in German: _______________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

Summer Program applying to: _______________________________________________________

Proposed dates of study: _____________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

Submit application packet to:

Dr. Andrea Krauss
Gilman Hall 401
Department of German & Romance Languages & Literatures