Max Kade Center 2019 Summer Travel Grant

Deadline: March 15, 2019

The German Program, with the support of the Max Kade Center for Modern German Thought, is pleased to announce 10 Travel Grants in the amount of $1,200 to support summer study abroad (German language courses, seminars in other disciplines, internships) in Germany.

Eligibility: Applicants must be full-time undergraduates at Johns Hopkins University. Prior knowledge of German is not required to apply for the grant and students from across the university are encouraged to apply. Preference is given to students who are German majors, German minors or students enrolled in courses in the German program.

Application Process: Applicants send their materials directly to the Department Administrator, Teri Caughman (Trobin52@jhu.edu). Applications are due by March 15, 2019 and must include:

___ Application Form (See page 2)

___ Copy of Transcript

___ Name of Academic Advisor (as reference)

___ Statement of Purpose (reasons for studying German & studying in Germany, ½ - 1 page)

___ Information about the program applicant has applied to / intends to apply to.

For more information about the grant and/or eligible programs, contact Professor Marton Dornbach mdornba1@jhu.edu or Deborah Mifflin mifflind@jhu.edu, the German Language Program Director.
The Max Kade Center Summer Travel Grant

March 15, 2019 Deadline

Application Form (Complete & submit along with transcript, Statement of Purpose, & Information on Program Applying to as one document.)

Full Name: ___________________________________________________________________________

Address: ___________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

Email: _____________________________  Phone:____________________________________________

Year of Study: _____ Freshman ____ Sophomore ____ Junior ____ Senior

Academic Major(s):___________________________________________

Academic Minor(s):___________________________________________

Academic Advisor:____________________________________________________________________

Previous Courses in German:____________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________________________

Current Course(s) in German: ____________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________________________

Summer Program applying to: ____________________________________________________________

Exact place & dates (include URL): _________________________________________________________

Proposed plans for study: ________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________________________

Submit application packet to:

Teri M. Caughman, Administrative Manager
Trobin52@jhu.edu
Gilman Hall 401
Department of German & Romance Languages & Literatures